Basic Catholic Marriage Laws

More and more, we are encountering married couples who do not realize that their marriage is not recognized by the Church, therefore, they are not permitted to receive Holy Communion and the other sacraments. Here are the more important canonical laws regarding couples and the Sacrament of Marriage.

- Marriage is between one man and one woman. Marriage ends with the death of one of the spouses.
- At the time of the wedding each person must be “free to marry,” that is, neither party has been previously married in any way. (If there is a previous marriage, an annulment will be necessary for each prior marriage.) As well, both parties must freely choose to wed. They cannot be forced to marry against their own will or be fearful about being married.
- The Church requires specific preparation for marriage for Catholics and this must be completed prior to the wedding. (Requirements will differ from diocese to diocese; normally, the norms of the diocese where the couple resides will be the ones that must be followed.)
- If one party is Catholic the wedding ceremony must take place in a Catholic Church according to the ritual of the Catholic Church with a priest or deacon serving as the one who will receive the vows of the couple.
- As for all the sacraments, the Church holds that those who request a sacrament must do so in faith. This generally presumes regular attendance at Mass on Sundays and Holy Days of Obligation, regular reception of the Sacraments of Holy Communion and Penance, and regular support of the Church.

[FYI: If neither the man nor woman is a Catholic and married according to the civil laws where they reside, the Catholic Church will recognize this marriage providing there were no impediments such as a prior marriage.]

These are the basics. There are other issues that will need to be discussed when the couple meets with their parish priest or deacon the first time.

The Blessed Sacrament is Exposed every Tuesday from 6-7pm for your quiet prayer time.
Come make a visit to Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament! Confessions available.

When the priest kisses the altar at the beginning and end of Mass, what does his kiss?
The priest kisses the altar stone, which contain relics. At St. Patrick we have 2 relics in the altar stone: St. John Paul II and St. Gemma Galgani.

Third Sunday of Easter April 19
"If you invoke as Father, Him who judges impartially according to each one's works, conduct yourselves with reverence during the time of your sojourning." 1 Peter 1:17 From the stewardship perspective, our consumer society is in need of an exile in a strange land. Stewardship calls us to resist the "me first" values glamorized by our society.
